

Save Our Saint Paul Neighborhoods

162X James Avenue - BEFORE (August 2014) and AFTER (April 2015)

It's a matter of scale

Hamline-Midway neighbors speak out

The White House - Hamline University BEFORE and AFTER (June 2014)

St. Paul starting to consider the trend in teardowns

Article by: KEVIN DUCHSCHERE | Star Tribune | Updated: March 15, 2014 - 10:15 PM

Popular Highland Park knows the trend rolling Edina, Minneapolis.

EVENT CALENDAR • NEWS • COMMUNITY INFORMATION • MULTIMEDIA • CLAS

Categorized | NEWS

Neighbors express frustration over Hamline U. demolitions

Andy Dawkins, current Green Party candidate for Minnesota attorney general, spoke briefly towards the end of the meeting in support of Historic Hamline Village. (Photo by Kyle Manuelli)

By JANE MCCLURE

Court ruling spurs call for protections against home teardowns

BY JANE MCCLURE

Why preservationists are an integral part of — not an obstacle to — good city planning

For the Love of Minnesota
By Claire VanderEyck | 04/10/15

NewsCut
MPR News A fresh eye on the news

Economy

Teardowns: What do neighbors owe you? What do you owe them?

In St. Paul, two trends drive increase in home demolitions

By Frederick Melo
fmelo@pioneerpress.com

POSTED: 02/14/2015 02:25:44 PM CST | UPDATED: ABOUT A MONTH AGO

St. Paul's home demolitions

Residential housing demolitions in St. Paul by ward from 2000 through 2014 show the Frogtown and East Side areas have been hit hardest.

Crocus Hill neighbors split on plan to raze 1902 home

By Frederick Melo
fmelo@pioneerpress.com

POSTED: 01/12/2015 12:01:00 AM CST | UPDATED: 2 MONTHS AGO

The two-story Victorian at 27 Crocus Place, built in 1902, overlooks Pleasant Avenue and Interstate 35E. The house is considered a contributing structure of the Historic Hill District, but is not a distinguished or historic property. (Pioneer Press: Scott Takushi)

Macalester fund buys Tangletown home slated for demolition

By Frederick Melo
fmelo@pioneerpress.com

POSTED: 02/11/2015 12:01:00 AM CST | UPDATED: 2 MONTHS AGO

In November, several dozen people gathered at 1721 Princeton Ave. in St. Paul to protest the new owner's plans to demolish the house at the address and replace it with two new homes. (Pioneer Press: Frederick Melo)

St. Paul wants public's views on new-home building requirements

By Sarah Horner
shorner@pioneerpress.com

POSTED: 04/10/2015 12:01:00 AM CDT | UPDATED: 3 DAYS AGO

A house is being constructed at the corner of Lincoln Avenue and Howell Street in St. Paul, in the Mac-Groveland neighborhood, photo on February 5, 2014. (Pioneer Press: Scott Takushi)

